College and School News

Forty-sixth annual commencement speaker at VIRGINIA UNION UNIVERSITY on June 12 was Dr. W. E. B. Du Bois, director of special research for the NAACP.

The forty-eighth annual commencement address at BLUEFIELD STATE COLLEGE was delivered on May 29 by Dr. Artis P. Graves, professor of biology in Morris Brown College.

At MINERS TEACHERS COLLEGE the thirteenth annual commencement address was delivered by Dr. Mordecai W. Johnson.

A part of the money, $50,000, contributed for the postwar construction of Alumni Hall by the MEHARRY MEDICAL COLLEGE alumni association has been invested in war bonds.

Alumni Hall, for which funds are now being raised, will be a combined dormitory and recreation building and is expected to house two hundred undergraduate students, a few graduate students, visiting alumni and distinguished guests.

New board members of the ATLANTA UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK are W. H. Crawford, director of district 35, United Steel Workers of America (CIO); Dillard B. Lasseter, regional director, War Manpower Commission; Mrs. B. E. Mays, former social worker and wife of the president of Moorehouse; and A. T. Walden, prominent Atlanta attorney and civic leader.

This year is the eighteenth for Forrester B. Washington, present director, under whose guidance the school has grown from 17 students in 1927 to 262 in 1945. Whereas in 1917 the school admitted only high-school graduates and conferred certificates, today it admits only persons with a college or university degree and awards the master of social work degree.

Summer enrollment this year with 108 full-time students is the largest in the history of the school. A special feature of the summer school was a five-day institute to prepare persons for service-work with returning veterans of World War II.

Among the experts who lectured at the institute were Miss Martha Dennison of the Atlanta Red Cross, George Lewis of the State Veterans Service, Major John Bell of the Atlanta Veterans Center, Messrs. Holden and Schell of the War Manpower Commission, Charles Robeson of the Georgia Veterans' Administration, Dr. J. C. Moore of the Georgia School of Technology Veterans Guidance Center, L. D. Hilton, president of the Citizens Trust Co., and Charles Greenleaf of the USO.

sity summer forums was delivered by Rufus E. Clement, president of the university. Theme of the forums is "Problems of a Shrinking World."

Summer school enrollment reached an all-time high the first session with 1,100 students. Five hundred and ninety-eight are graduate and professional students and this is the first time the graduate enrollment has exceeded the undergraduate.

Thirteenth annual Rural Institute sponsored by the summer school and directed by Benjamin F. Bullock, professor in the university school of education, was held June 25-July 6.

The first of three productions of the summer theatre, "Tomorrow the World," was presented in June in the little theatre at Spelman. Randolph Edmunds was director.

On June 29, Miss Carol Blanton, of the summer school faculty, gave a piano recital in the Sisters chapel of Spelman. Miss Blanton is head of the piano department at Dillard and a graduate of Spelman and the Juilliard School of Music in New York City.

In a recent address before the summer school faculty, President Florence M. Read of Spelman deplored the "downward grade" in educational standards as well as manners.

The following awards were made by President Florence M. Read at the final chapel services of SPELMAN COLLEGE: the Jerome award for creative achievement, to Madeline L. Patterson, Brooklyn, N. Y., for her piano composition "The Lone Patrol"; the Arnett scholarship award, to Joyce Cooper, Atlanta; the Seymour Finney prize for the graduate with the highest scholarship to Ida M. Kilpatrick, New York City; the Lucy Upton prize for highest Christian character, leadership and scholarship in the community, to Johnnie C. Hogg, LaGrange, Ga.; and two awards, the Mary E. Simmons and the Eula L. Eagleson prizes, to Mary Alice English of Waycross, Ga.

The Spence award for character and promise of service went to Catherine M. Quarterman of Atlanta. Full-tuition scholarships went to Grace McKivey, also of Atlanta, and Birdie E. Bambrell of Anderson, S. C.

Recent issue of Current Biography, a monthly brochure published by the H. W. Wilson Co. of New York City, has a two-page sketch of Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, president of MOREHOUSE COLLEGE.

Current issue of Phylon (the Atlanta university review of race and culture) announces an award of $100.00 by Letter Magazine to Walter R. Chivers, professor of sociology at Morehouse, for his article, "Teaching Social Anthropology in a Negro College." This article appeared in Vol. IV (1943) of Phylon.

AN EDUCATIONAL EXPERIMENT

"Our whole curriculum is community-centered" is the philosophy of this institution, which is making an educational experiment that is being watched by educators of the whole country. This experiment provides a high degree of individual attention to the student's individual problems, a "bloc plan" of study instead of the usual concurrent program of varied subjects, and an extensive use of visual teaching aids.

New officers of the college alumni association for 1945-1946 are: Rev. Maynard Holbrook Jackson, pastor of Friendship Baptists church, Atlanta, president; Rev. John E. Nance, minister of the Washington Tabernacle Baptist Church, St. Louis, Mo., first vice-president; and Albert W. Dent, president of Dillard university, second vice-president; E. E. Farley, executive secretary of the Columbus, Ga., USO, secretary; Hobart C. Jackson, manager of Atlanta university bookshop, treasurer; and T. J. Curry, professor of history at Morehouse, re-elected historian.

Dr. Lloyd L. Woods, professor of chemistry at St. AUGUSTINE COLLEGE, is teaching organic chemistry during the second term at the New York University summer school. Two articles by Dr. Woods were published recently. "Isolation of Kafiric Acid from Kafir Bean" appeared in the April issue Journal of the American Chemical Society, and "Chemistry in the Negro College" was published in the spring number of the Journal of Negro Education.

Thirty-fifth annual conference for church workers was held at the college June 11-15.

The college expects to benefit materially in the near future from the proposed $5,000,000 reconstruction and advancement fund of the national church, which includes a substantial allotment to the American Church Institute for Negroes. St. Augustine is asking for a physical education building, a new or enlarged science building, and aid for smaller projects.

Sixty-fourth annual commencement speaker at BISHOP COLLEGE on May 25 was Dr. Theodore S. Boone, pastor of King Solomon Baptist church, Detroit, Mich.

In cooperation with the state and county health departments and the U. S. Public Health Service, the department of health and physical education at WEST VIRGINIA STATE COLLEGE held a health workshop June 25-30.

The college has been chosen as one of the nine institutions participating in the study of inter-group relations.

Seven members of the HAMPTON INSTITUTE educational staff will pursue advanced studies at various institutions of higher learning next year. Four have been granted sabbaticals and two will study on grants from the General Education Board. Faculty members granted sabbatical leaves are Miss Elizabeth W. Chandler, associate professor of education; John L. Frank, instructor in drafting and chairman of the drafting department; Miss Helen L. Kendall, assistant professor of art; and Miss Irene Sanders, associate professor of music and education and acting chairman of the music department. General Education Board fellowships have been awarded to Miss Jessie M. Lemon, instructor in English, and Cecil T. Lewis, assistant professor of English.

Leander L. Boykin, dean of students at the college, will study toward the doctor's degree at Stanford university next year.

Carl Holman, who joined the staff last fall as an instructor in the Communications Center, has left to do creative work in poetry and prose on a Rosenwald fellowship. While at Hampton Mr. Holman wrote and produced a musical satire, "Pens and Pencils," which was presented by the staff of the college in May for the benefit of the United Negro College Fund.

A graduate of Lincoln university (Mo.) and of the University of Chicago, where he received the master's degree, Mr. Holman won the tie award for first prize last spring in the John Billings Fiske poetry competition at the University of Chicago.

On July 7-9 sixteen consultants from the fields of industrial and technical education, industry, and industrial relations visited Hampton and conferred with President Ralph P. Bridgman and members of the staff of the Division of Trades and Industries.

There will be an article also by the well-known Virgin Islander, J. Antonio Jarvis, entitled "A Glimpse at the Virgin Islands."

In an early issue there will be another article by Chester B. Himes, the brilliant young short-story writer, on equality entitled "Equality is Law, Not Fact."

THE CRISIS was founded in 1910 and is the official organ of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. It is published monthly at 69 Fifth Avenue, New York 3, N. Y., by The Crisis Publishing Co., Inc., Dr. Louis T. Wright, president; Walter White, secretary; and Mrs. Lillian A. Alexander, treasurer. The subscription price is $1.50 a year or 15 cents a copy. Foreign subscriptions $1.75. The date of expiration of each subscription is printed on the wrapper. When the subscription is due a blue renewal blank is enclosed. The address of a subscription may be changed as often as desired, but both the old and new address must be given and two weeks' notice is necessary. Manuscripts and drawings relating to colored people are desired. They must be accompanied by return postage, and while THE CRISIS uses every care, it assumes no responsibility for their safety in transit. Entered as second class matter November 2, 1910, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Race Hate First on Agenda of U. S. Congress

IF the performance of both houses of the Congress on the matter of the Fair Employment Practice Committee is a true indication of what the country may expect in the post-war period, then we are in for an era of tension and racial and religious hatred. For, by its parliamentary trickery and its shocking speeches against races and religions, Congress has given its blessing to hatred and bigotry as a policy. Every group, every hamlet, town, city and state will feel no shame in placing repression based upon race, color, or religion as the No. 1 item on its docket.

The issue of continuing or abolishing the FEPC became lost in a maze of moves initiated by men who unashamedly proclaimed their hatred of Negroes and Jews, and who cast slurs upon Catholics and Spanish-Americans.

The Bilbo speeches were nauseous, but were expected of the senior senator from Mississippi. He was in character. The Eastland slander of Negro troops was unexpected, but apparently nothing is too low to engage the gentleman from Mississippi. He has refused to document his charges and every responsible Army officer or other government official has refuted his assertions.

As bad as these rantings were, the important and ominous aspect of the whole matter is that the business of government was halted for four days and that members of Congress were not permitted to vote on the merits of the issue under debate.

This is not representative government. This is not democratic government. The will of the people on an issue was not permitted to be asserted. This was fascism operating behind a facade of parliamentary skulduggery, parading boldly under a panoply of racial and religious screamings reminiscent of Hitler and Goebbels.

Is this the pattern for the future? Is this the manner in which the mightiest nation in the world is to assume its moral leadership for peace in a world shattered by war and death? Are we to answer the prayers of the peoples of the world with speeches by the Bilbos and the Eastlands and their ilk? Is the floor of our Senate to become the rostrum for the lowest rantings on racial and religious hatred? Is the social vision of Poplarville, Miss., U. S. A., to become the yardstick by which America will settle vexing world problems? And, here at home, will our returning veterans, seeking peace and security, have their legitimate desires throttled by legislative trickery manipulated by a handful of little, hate-ridden men?

What the Bilbos and the Eastlands say about Negroes can be only so harmful. The race is on its way forward and nothing the Mississippi men can do now will stop its onward surge. But these men can (and have) hurt America. What will America do about it?

Mixed Troops Not Mixed

WE ARE indebted to the Afro-American, one of the two weeklies regarded as working very closely with the War department, for the revelation that the widely-publicized mixed infantry units used in the final weeks against Germany were not mixed at all. The Afro, in its issue of July 21 declares that the colored troops "were held in separate companies, fighting ahead of or in support of white companies, but never 'side by side'." The original plan, says the Afro was to use colored replacements wherever needed, but many white units refused to accept them on this flat mixed basis. Moreover, the separate Negro units were classified as "provisional," subject to deactivation and return to their former status as service troops.

Thus another piece of ballyhoo by the Army goes up in smoke. The "integration" of these men in the Battle of Germany was supposed to be the real reason for the visit of Truman K. Gibson, Jr., to Europe. The now-famous interview on the 92d division was said to have been unplanned and deeply regretted since it detracted from the heralding of the "integration." Another plan was to use the "mixing" of troops as an argument for the support of compulsory peacetime military training by Negro voters, the theory being that by this token mixing Negroes would be lulled into believing that peacetime conscription might not be on the usual segregated basis. The Afro story spoils this, also.

More About the Navy

THE Navy, so far as the Negro is concerned, is "not the same Navy," according to Lester B. Granger, executive secretary of the National Urban League. Mr. Granger completed a tour of Navy installations in this country at the invitation of James V. Forrestal, Secretary of the Navy, and gave his opinion at a press conference in Washington.

Mr. Granger declared the Navy was actually putting into operation a policy of fully integrating Negroes, that separation and discrimination were on the way out, that promotion according to merit was now the policy, and that the Navy was far ahead of the Army on racial policy in the service.

This is cheering news, but it would be accepted a little more readily if it had not come at the same time the Navy was affirming the sentences of 50 Negro sailors, convicted on a "mutiny" charge following the killing of 300 sailors at an ammunition explosion in Port Chicago, Calif., last August. The Navy said it found no evidence of race prejudice in the trial or verdict. The Granger announcement comes also at a time when the Navy revealed that the conviction of 43 Negro sailors on Guam on charges of rioting and unlawful assembly had been affirmed. The Navy ignored in the trial of these men a long series of unprovoked attacks upon them by white Marines. The news would also sit better with Negroes if there were more evidence that promotions were being made on merit, and if there were not some glaring examples of segregation in Navy installations. Mr. Granger admits that all commanders everywhere have not as yet fallen in line with the new policy and it is to be hoped that the Navy will move speedily to correct such conditions. It would be most discouraging to colored people and to Mr. Granger if it should develop that Mr. Forrestal has used a prominent and respected civilian leader to cover up Navy shortcomings.

Bad Business

NEGROES must be careful in the tough post-war struggles ahead that they do not permit unscrupulous employers to use them as strikebreakers. In the Newspaper Deliverers' strike in New York City last month, hundreds of colored youngsters and many who were not youngsters went to newspaper offices, bought bundles of papers and sold them throughout the city. Some did this unthinkingly, seeking to make a few extra dollars. Some did it deliberately, not appreciating the harm they were doing themselves and the labor movement. Some, without doubt, were egged on by the newspapers.

Already there is evidence that management and labor will have a great tussle after the war. Both are jockeying for position and are speaking to each other more sharply now that the end is in sight. Admitting that all the unions have not done what they should have done for Negroes, it will still be a tragic error for our workers to become strikebreakers. What happened in New York must not become the pattern for the rest of the nation.

Hard Work for FEPC

IF WE are to have a permanent FEPC there is hard work ahead in the next five months. The bill for a permanent FEPC is H. R. 2232, bottled up in the House Rules committee. It can be got out on the floor for a vote if 218 signatures are attached to Discharge Petition No. 4. Write your congressman (not your senator) at his home address, or get a committee to call on him and get him to sign this petition.

"Negroes! Jews! Catholics!"

(Three Days of Business in the U. S. Senate)

THE appropriation for the Fair Employment Practices Committee (FEPC) to continue its work through June 30, 1946 was supposed to be included in the War Agencies Bill, required to be passed by June 30. The amount originally requested for the FEPC was $599,000, but had been cut to $446,200. When the House finished with the War Agencies Bill, it omitted FEPC altogether. The Senate was disposed to restore the $446,200 item, but Senator Theodore G. Bilbo of Mississippi announced he would fight "to the death" against any money for the agency. He talked for two days (June 27-28) against the measure, and his colleague, Senator James O. Eastland of Mississippi, joined him on the last day (June 29) with a speech distinguished chiefly for its sweeping slander on Negro soldiers in World War II.

The principal ammunition of the two Senators was ranting against Negroes, Jews and Catholics. There were slurs on other racial groups including Mexicans (Senator Dennis Chavez of New Mexico, Senate sponsor of FEPC, is both a Spanish-American and a Catholic).

For the delectation and remembrance of our readers we submit the following excerpts from the Congressional Record, with certain interpolations.

After reciting that Senator Chavez had served notice that he would introduce an amendment to suspend the rule so that FEPC might be considered, the record continues:

MR. BILBO. But since the 20th day of June we have been threatened by my distinguished and lovable friend from New Mexico, a gentleman from the wild and woolly West, who is coming up with his little squirt gun and is going to squirt into this bill the poison of the FEPC. . . .

This thing they call the FEPC was born in sin and brought forth in iniquity. Some Senators possibly do not know the history of it, and I have a suspicion—indeed, I have a faith—that if the thinking people of America knew how this miserable concoction was brought about they would rise up and say, "Kill the snake, and kill it now."

I am reading from a new book, the title of which is "What the Negro Wants." It is edited by Rayford W. Logan, who is a gentleman of color, and the contributors to this book are Mary McLeod Bethune, Sterling A. Brown, W. E. Burghardt Du Bois, Gordon B. Hancock, Leslie Pinckney Hill, Langston Hughes, Rayford W. Logan, Frederick D.

The bulk of this article is made up of quotations from the Congressional Record, the official proceedings of the Congress of the United States. These quotations cover the days of June 27, 28, 29, 1945. In order to appreciate them fully, one should remember that on June 25 President Truman submitted to the Senate the United Nations Charter drawn up by the San Francisco Conference, that the great damage to the aircraft carriers Franklin and Bunker Hill, with heavy loss of life, had just been made public, that announcement had been made of the place and approximate time of the meeting of the Big Three—in short the world was concerned with momentous issues while the United States Senate devoted three days to the most petty, vicious and shocking diatribes on race, color and religion ever recorded in the proceedings of the highest deliberative body of any major world power Patterson, A. Philip Randolph—do not forget that name—George S. Schuyler, Willard S. Townsend, Charles H. Wesley, Dorey A. Wilkerson, and Roy Wilkins—the worst of them all.

I find in the book, on page 16, where the true story of the origin of the FEPC is set forth. . . . A. Philip Randolph, with the aid and assistance of the NAACP, under the administration of Walter White, had organized 200,000 Negroes, and had announced they were going to march on Washington, and remain here until they had obtained what they wanted. . . .

Lillian Smith and Georgia

The other day I received a telegram from the State of Georgia signed by a lot of Negroes and white Quislings of that great State in the South. Mr. President, the petition from Georgia was signed, among others, by Lillian Smith. Have Senators ever heard of her? She is the author of the book entitled "Bitter Fruit." (The correct title is "Strange Fruit"—Ed.) If Senators have not read that book I hope to God they never will. It is one of the dirtiest pieces of literature that has ever been printed and circulated. . . .

Lillian Smith was a student at Columbia University, and fell under the tutelage of that distinguished anthropologist, Dr. Boas, a German Jew, from Germany, who thought that interbreeding of the whites and blacks was the proper solution of the race question. . . .

I have just finished reading—and I recommend it to the scholars and students of the Senate—a book by Dr. W. E. B. DuBois. The title is "Color and Democracy." The writing of the book was finished on the 1st day of January, 1945. In the book Dr. DuBois takes the position that all the work which has been done at San Francisco is null and void, and that we are headed for another war, and that the next war will be a race war. He says it will not be long in coming. He says that the way in which colonials of all the empires and countries of the world will be treated under the San Francisco Charter is such that there will be dissatisfaction and unrest and a rebellion of the colored people of all the nations of all the earth against the white man and his rule. . . .

Now he is the head research man of the NAACP, Walter White's organization in New York, and this book is one of the fruit of the NAACP, for the support of which some of you philanthropists are contributing your money.

Nigger, Nigger, Nigger

Thereafter Senator Bilbo devoted several pages to statistics of the race, rank, and salary of FEPC employees, and read into the record numerous letters supporting him in his fight on FEPC. One letter from Georgia charged that the Atlanta Constitution "assists greatly in creating false ideas in the heads of the niggers." Another condemns the petition (supporting FEPC) "signed by niggers and our lowest white trash." Still another declares "the educated nigger breeds trouble," and winds up with the statement: "Southern 'yes' newspapers along with the nigger press will try to crucify you, but stick in there with them."

Hitting liberals, one letter declares they want to "bring about the social recognition of the nigger." Another thanks Bilbo for "blasting the little group of renegade whites and niggers up in Atlanta," saying both dailies published there "read like they were owned by niggers." Asserting that Franklin D. Roosevelt was the "daddy of this villainy," the letter says, "Well, if Franklin Roosevelt was a Democrat then I am a nigger wash-woman."

Mexicans, Catholics, Jews

MR. CHAVEZ. Mr. President—

MR. BILBO. I have the floor.

MR. CHAVEZ. I know the Senator has the floor, but I do not want him to be confused. If he has any friends from Mexico, I want him to say so. If he refers to me I want him to say "New Mexico."

THE PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. Wherry in the chair). Does the Senator from Mississippi yield to the Senator from New Mexico?

MR. BILBO. I thought the Senator was going to ask me a question, but instead of asking a question, it was just an explosion.

MR. CHAVEZ. Mr. President—

THE PRESIDING OFFICER. Does the Senator from Mississippi yield to the Senator from New Mexico?

MR. BILBO. No; I do not yield.

THE PRESIDING OFFICER. Very well. Then Senator from Mississippi will proceed in order.

MR. CHAVEZ. I insist to the Senator that I am from New Mexico and not from Mexico.

MR. BILBO. I insist I know just as much about Mexico as I do about New Mexico, and I do not know a darn thing about New Mexico, and the Senator does not know anything about Mississippi.

MR. CHAVEZ. Mr. President—

THE PRESIDING OFFICER. Does the Senator from Mississippi yield to the Senator from New Mexico?

MR. BILBO. I yield for a question only.

MR. CHAVEZ. Does the Senator know where New Mexico is?

MR. BILBO. I know a little about my country.

MR. CHAVEZ. I am satisfied that "little" is correct.

MR. BILBO. Well, with what Mexico sends over here, I have not much chance to learn much more.

MR. CHAVEZ. Mr. President, will the Senator yield for a question?

MR. BILBO. I yield for a question.

MR. CHAVEZ. Did the Senator from Mississippi ever hear of a Catholic Communist?

MR. BILBO. Yes.

MR. CHAVEZ. Does he consider Monsignor Ryan, of the Catholic Church, a Communist?

MR. BILBO. I do not know the gentleman.

MR. CHAVEZ. I wish the Senator would read what he says about the FEPC, from the pamphlet which the Senator has just been reading.

MR. BILBO. I do not know him, but I do know that there are a few Catholic priests in this country who, along with some Jewish rabbis, are trying to line up with the Negroes in teaching social equality.

Black Star

Theodore G. Bilbo of Poplarville, Miss., the pudgy, ranine-like mouthpiece of southern reaction and Negrophobia, caught here in the pose of a back-country rabble-rouser.

MR. CHAVEZ. Mr. President, will the Senator yield for a question?

MR. BILBO. I yield for a question.

MR. CHAVEZ. Would the Senator be willing to submit to the Senate the names of the priests to whom he refers?

MR. BILBO. I will make a list of them and let the Senator have it.

MR. CHAVEZ. I wish the Senator would do so.

MR. BILBO. I believe I have some of the names here, on a petition from Atlanta, Ga.

MR. CHAVEZ. The Senator may have the names on a petition, but that does not prove that they are Communists. The Senator said they were Communists.

MR. BILBO. No; I did not say they were Communists. I said they were trying to bring about social equality with the Negro race. Some Baptist preachers, as well as some Methodist preachers, are doing the same thing. I am not reflecting on the Catholics. Some of my best friends are Catholics. I admire them greatly. Down in my home State there is a Catholic priest of whom I am very fond. I send him a birthday present every year. He is my "pal."

MR. CHAVEZ. I am sure he appreciates it. . . .

Jews

MR. BILBO. Mr. President, I now wish to read to Senators a most surprising and unusual story concerning what is taking place in this country—the most surprising story I have read in many a day. This comes from the wife of the editor of the Washington Post, Mrs. Eugene Meyer: He reads)

Think of it, Senators. The wife of the editor of the Washington Post, Mrs. Eugene Meyer, speaking before a gathering in New Jersey, makes the statement that if something is not done in the South, and done at once, to change economic and social measures, when the Negro soldiers come back from this war they will not stay in the South but will make their way to the North, and she says this "will be disastrous for the North and for the Nation."

I should like to read an editorial from the Washington Post entitled "FEPC Filibuster." These things are synchronized logically and sequentially—from Mrs. Meyer to the editorial columns, from the wife to the editor. This is the editorial: (He reads)

When I stand here to fight and kill this damnable piece of legislation, I am protecting Senators from New York or Illinois, who know in their hearts that I am right, who know in their hearts that this is a damnable piece of legislation, who know in their hearts that it is wrong, but for political reasons cannot afford to say so. Their political lives are at stake. They want to come back to the Senate. I am their friend in the hour of their distress.

MR. CHAVEZ. Mr. President, will the Senator yield for a question?

MR. BILBO. I yield for a question.

MR. CHAVEZ. Would the same political reason apply to Senators on the other side of the question?

MR. BILBO. They do not apply in my case, because I can be elected in Mississippi regardless of the FEPC.

MR. CHAVEZ. I hope the Senator can, but I am wondering whether or not some reasons of that kind might not be in mind once in a while.

MR. BILBO. I do not claim perfection. I confess my limitations and weaknesses. There might be situations in which I would have to yield, as the Senator from Mexico has yielded.

MR. CHAVEZ. Mr. President, will the Senator please say "New Mexico"? I am afraid there will be confusion. People will not know what he is talking about, and will say, "The good Senator from Mississippi confuses New Mexico with Mexico."

MR. BILBO. I think the Senator is quite right, and I apologize for not saying "New Mexico" every time, because, the Senator being the sponsor of a measure of this character, people are likely to believe that it comes from Mexico, and not New Mexico. Hereafter I will protect the Senator.

MR. CHAVEZ. I am trying to protect the Senator from Mississippi, because I think he is making a good statement according to his own ideas, but if the people get the idea that he is confusing the State of New Mexico with the Republic of Mexico, they will say, "He is probably confused about the merits of FEPC."

MR. BILBO. It is possible that something good could come out of New Mexico.

MR. BILBO. Mr. President, it has just occurred to me what is the matter. I had forgotten that the editor of the Washington Post is a Jew, and I presume that his wife is a Jewess.

MR. CHAVEZ. Mr. President, will the Senator yield?

MR. BILBO. They have been lined up from the very beginning with this minority called the Negro race in the fight which it is waging. There are exceptions, of course.

MR. CHAVEZ. Mr. President—
MR. BILBO. The Negroes, and the Jews in New York, as well as others who are working with them hand in hand—those are the minorities which the politicians fear—are the ones who have been back of this vicious legislation. Therefore, we find the editor of the Washington Post, a Jew, fighting against me, accusing me, and denouncing me and any other man who dares to disagree with him with regard to this proposed legislation, and calling us bankrupt men. I resent it.

MR. CHAVEZ. Mr. President, may I ask my colleague a question?

MR. BILBO. Yes.

MR. CHAVEZ. Has the Senator ever heard of a boy named Levine, who died in the Philippine Islands in the early days of the war? Has the Senator from Mississippi ever heard of him?

MR. BILBO. I think I have.

MR. CHAVEZ. Was he a Jew?

MR. BILBO. I do not know.

MR. CHAVEZ. Has the Senator heard of thousands and thousands of men who were Jews who made the supreme sacrifice, and are lying in graveyards in Tunisia, Africa, Sicily, Italy, Okinawa, Iwo Jima, and other places, side by side with boys from Mississippi?

MR. BILBO. Yes.

MR. CHAVEZ. Is there anything in the Constitution which says that a Jew cannot be a good American?

MR. BILBO. Sit down a minute; I want to talk to the Senator. I am not saying anything against the Jew. I am not denouncing the Jews. I am a member of the Baptist Church, in good standing.

MR. CHAVEZ. I am a member of the Catholic Church, in good standing.

MR. BILBO. Wait a minute, wait a minute, wait a minute.

MR. CHAVEZ. I just want to tell you that I am a good Catholic.

MR. BILBO. You cannot get that on the RECORD. Wait a minute. You cannot talk now. I have the floor. I say that I am a Protestant in good standing.

MR. CHAVEZ. I am a Catholic in good standing.

MR. BILBO. Yes; and we both believe in Jesus Christ, who was a Jew.

MR. CHAVEZ. I also hope that we both believe in American institutions.

MR. BILBO. Moses was a Jew, Paul was a Jew, and Peter was a Jew also. They were all Jews. Do not intimate that I am trying to denounce Jews. Some of the best friends I have in the world are of the Jewish faith. I am saying that Eugene Meyer is a Jew, and has denounced me as a bankrupt man because I am opposed to the pet scheme which the Negroes and the Jews in this country are trying to put over on the American businessmen, and the business enterprises of this country. That scheme would affect the North,

James O. Eastland of Ruleville, Miss., judges the world by the standards of his nigger-hating bailiwick. Excited about the relations of Negro troops in Europe with white women, he digs a subway in Stuttgart.

South, East and West. The question involved here is not a southern one. The petition which I have received from Atlanta has been referred to. One-fifth of the persons referred to are Jews and Rabbis. If we examine this list of national organizations we will see that they sponsor a membership consisting of approximately 90 percent of Negroes or Jews.

Negro Soldiers Slandered

The Bilbo talk-fest ended on the afternoon of June 28 after rising to a peak of ravings against Negroes, Jews and Catholics with a few not-too-subtle remarks about Americans of Mexican ancestry. The next day, June 29, Senator James O. Eastland of Mississippi took up the cudgels against FEPC and made a long rambling speech, going over the statistics on FEPC employees which had been placed in the Congressional Record by Bilbo and reading from sections of a League of Nations report on Liberia.

However, the portion of the speech which angered and shocked Negro and white Americans was the sweeping denunciation of every Negro in uniform as being "an utter and dismal failure," together with the categorical assertion: "Negro soldiers have disgraced the flag of their country." Excerpts from the record:

MR. EASTLAND. But let us go further. By setting up this agency we grant an unfair preference to the Negro soldier or to the soldier of a minority group over the returning white soldier. We set up an organization to see that the returning Negro soldier gets a job, to help him get a job, and to see that there is no discrimination in giving jobs to the white soldier. Who has won this war? (italics ours—Ed.) Why should the white soldier, the warrior who has returned home after having achieved the greatest victory in history be penalized for political reasons?

What is the history of the Negro soldier in the American Army? Mr. President, I recently returned from Europe. While there I talked to numerous high-ranking generals of the American Army, some of them in a peculiar position to know the facts. Later I shall discuss the record of other Negro soldiers, the service troops behind the lines; but, first, what is the combat record of the Ninety-second Division, the only Negro division that has seen service in Europe?

To begin with that division—and I state it authoritatively—had the best equipment of any division in the American Army; it had the best training of any division in the American Army. For political reasons—and when I say "political reasons" I quote American generals—they were forced to commission some Negro officers for that division. In not one instance, Mr. President, could they place a Negro officer in a responsible position. In not one instance could they place upon his shoulders the responsibility of combat, and I tell you now, Mr. President, that division could not be placed in an important position in the line. Had we depended upon it, the German Army would have gone south to the toe of the Italian boot and destroyed our armies in Europe. The Negro soldier was an utter and dismal failure in combat in Europe. When I make that statement, it is not from prejudice. I am not prejudiced against the Negro.

(Laughter in the galleries.)

MR. MORSE. Mr. President, may we have order?

THE PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. McFarland in the chair). The Chair admonishes the occupants of the galleries that they are here at the invitation of the Senate. If they do not keep order, the Chair will order the galleries to be cleared.

MR. EASTLAND. Mr. President, I merely state facts as given to our committee by high ranking generals of the American Army, who are in a peculiar position to know the facts.

In a number of instances these soldiers would desert their posts of duty, without cause, and the whole division would, without cause, rhyme, or reason, quit fighting. The officers told us the soldiers had no initiative, no sense of responsibility, very low intelligence, and were a failure. Yet we are asked to set up an unfair preference against the white soldier for the benefit of the returning Negro veteran, solely because he is a member of a minority group which sells its vote to the highest bidder in political campaigns. . . .

Service Troops "Lazy"

In Europe Negro soldiers are used principally as service troops behind the lines, and I state now, on the authority of many American officers, that they were lazy; that they would not work; that it was a mistake to

The American Negro In College

IN this, its thirty-fourth annual education number, The Crisis once more presents only a partial picture of the Negro students in college and of the 1945 Negro college graduates. We have to depend, we must repeat, upon volunteer information from registrars and individuals, since we have no staff to pursue statistics down to the last graduate. Many graduates, themselves prefer not to be counted, and many attend relatively small colleges, tucked away here and there, and unless they speak up, no one knows they have attended and been graduated. Many graduates, too, will not send in their information or photographs until the education number is published. Seven of the schools sent questionnaires did not reply.

And this year, as in previous years, several of the larger northern and western universities replied to our questionnaire by saying they kept no record of the racial identity of students and therefore could not report how many colored students were enrolled, or how many were receiving degrees.

Figures collected by The Crisis, supplemented by estimates, indicate a total enrollment of about 46,000 Negroes in American colleges during the past year, and 4,145 graduates with the bachelor's degree, as compared with 34,543 students and 3,595 graduates last year.

Of the schools making direct returns, we have a record of 41,722 Negroes enrolled; 4,145 receiving the bachelor's degree, 244 with the master's degree, 423 with professional degrees, and 13 with the Ph.D. and 4 with the doctor of education degree.

Howard university still heads the list in total number of students enrolled. Her total enrollment this year of 4,780 students doubles that of last year. Last year Howard graduated 86 students with the bachelor's degree; this year she graduates 170. Tennessee A. & I. State, third in the list last year, is second this year with 1,899 students enrolled and 124 graduates. Prairie View State is third with 1,380 students and 51 graduates; Tuskegee Institute fourth with 1,163 and 96 graduates; and Virginia State fifth with 1,120 students and 181 graduates. For some reason Xavier, which was third in last year's list, drops to seventeenth place this year.

Howard, the "capstone of Negro education," enrolled 170 students in dentistry and graduated 18; enrollment in engineering and architecture was 289, with 8 graduates; graduate school enrollment, 632; with 170 degrees conferred; in law, 50 enrolled with 3 degrees conferred; in medicine 273 enrolled with 73 degrees conferred; in music 373 enrolled with 11 degrees conferred; in pharmacy 89 enrolled with 14 degrees conferred; and in religion 55 enrolled with 10 degrees conferred.

Meharry Medical college had 571 enrolled. There were 107 graduates, including 59 graduates in medicine, 16 in dentistry, 28 in nurs-

Western Reserve again reports the largest enrollment of Negro students in any mixed college making a report. This year the total is 187 as contrasted with 172 for last year. University of Illinois was second with 147; University of Kansas, third with 106; Boston university, fourth with 92; and University of Denver, fifth with 55. Ohio State, however, again reports the largest number of Negro graduates. She reports 21 bachelor's degrees conferred. Western Reserve and Boston university come next with 11 Negro graduates each.

Detailed information and statistics:

Highest honor students at Meharry Medical College were William Samuel Odom, medicine; James Madison Morris, dentistry; and Lollie Theresa Brown, nursing.

Honor graduate at Xavier was Mary Ella Robertson.

FINANCE COMMITTEE of the Kansas City, Mo., branch of the NAACP.

WIN ARKANSAS SALARY CASE: After a three year fight, the NAACP has won its case for the equalization of the salaries of Negro teachers in Little Rock, Arkansas. Suit was first filed on February 28, 1942, by Susie Morris and Frances P. Hibbler on behalf of the Negro teachers of Little Rock against Russell Scobee, superintendent of schools, and the local school board. After the disposal of preliminary motions, a full trial of the case on its merits began on September 28, 1942, and was concluded on October 3, 1942.

It was the contention of the plaintiffs and other teachers during the trial that Negro teachers, regardless of their qualifications and experience, were consistently paid lower salaries than the whites solely because of their race and color. The school board, on the other hand, contended that all teachers irrespective of race, were paid on an individual basis and in accordance with a rating system. Yet all Negro teachers were rated lower than the whites.

On March 10, 1944, U. S. District Judge Thomas C. Trimble entered an order dismissing the complaint of the colored teachers, awarding the defendants the costs of court. On the following day attorneys for the teachers filed a notice of appeal to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

In the meantime, the school board refused to rehire Susie Morris and Frances P. Hibbler, the plaintiffs.

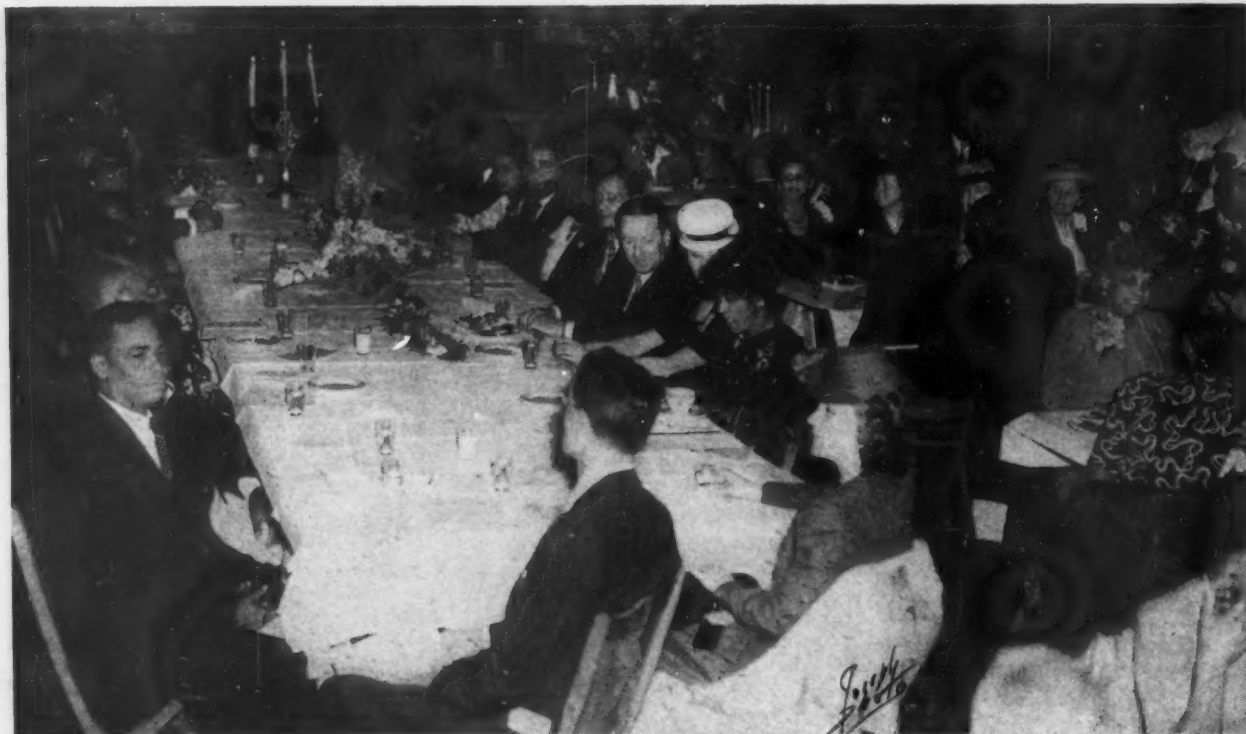

On May 7 the case was argued before the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit, with Thurgood Marshall and J. R. Booker, of Little Rock, representing the teachers. A ruling was handed down on June 19.

ASSOCIATION REACHES NEW MEMBERSHIP PEAK: A new peak, far in excess of that recorded for the same period in 1944, has been reached by the Association in its nationwide membership drive for 600,000 new members. Many of the branches have a ready exceeded their quotas and to swell the totals the NAACP now has more than 14,807 soldier memberships, or memberships-at-large. More than 6,000 members have also been added to the college chapters and youth councils.

NEW VOTE REGISTRATION CASE FILED IN ALABAMA: On June 19 in the U. S. District Court for the northern district of Alabama, a new case was filed to test the policy of the local registration board in its partial application of the Alabama registration laws. The Association filed the case against the members of the registration board on behalf of Miss Pastorah Vinson. The plaintiff, Miss Vinson, claims that she is over twenty-one years of age and that she owns real property, and that she is a taxpayer of the state of Alabama. Since she is a registered nurse, she is fully able to read and interpret the constitution and otherwise qualified to be registered.

The complaint alleges that over a long period of years the board of registration has refused to register qualified Negro electors while at the same time registering white electors with less qualifications than those of the Negro applicants. The plaintiff alleges that when she presented herself for registration on April 10, 1945, she was denied the right to register even after being questioned as to her qualifications and her ability to read and interpret the constitution. Yet white persons who presented themselves, both before and after the plaintiff, were registered forthwith. This form of unequal treatment, the complaint avers, is a denial of the equal protection of the laws as well as a denial of the right to vote as guaranteed by Article I and Amendments 15 and 17 of the U. S. Constitution. The complaint asks for a declaratory judgment, a permanent injunction, and $5,000 damages. Thurgood Marshall and Arthur Shores of Birmingham are representing the plaintiff.

ASK FOR PETITION RIGHTS FOR COLONIES: In a wire to Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., then Secretary of State, on June 19 the NAACP asked for the right of petition by dependent peoples, the right of the international organization to investigate and remedy their complaints, as well as insistence on independence for all colonies.

UNPREJUDICED FHA HEAD REQUESTED: Selection of an FHA administrator sympathetic to the housing needs of Negroes, and one who will correct the discriminatory practices of his predecessor, Abner H. Ferguson, who resigned June 14 as head of the Federal Housing Administration, was requested by the Association in a letter to President Truman on June 21.

READER OF Rising Wind SENDS CHECK: A check for $100 was recently received from an Arizona reader of Walter White's new book, A Rising Wind. In his letter to Mr. White the donor said that "every thinking person must realize the urgent need for betterment of relationships between all races," and added that the NAACP seemed "headed in the right direction to achieve this end."

MRS. ROOSEVELT NEW BOARD MEMBER: Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt, long a champion of minority rights, has accepted membership on the national board of directors of the NAACP.

In making the announcement, Mr. White said: "The NAACP is honored to add so great an American to its national board of directors. Mrs. Roosevelt has stood by her guns in the face of bitter attack and misrepresentation not only from anti-Negro southerners, but others as well. To have her counsel as a member of the board will mean a great addition to the effectiveness of the NAACP fight for total equality for the Negro."

WHITE MAKES RADIO REPORT: Walter White made a radio report of his four months tour of the Pacific, where he investigated the treatment of Negro soldiers, on July 7 over the Columbia Broadcasting System. He spoke from station WKRC in Cincinnati, Ohio.

TWO 447TH OFFICERS ACQUITTED: In July the Association won acquittal for Lts. Marsden Thompson and Shirley B. Clinton, two of the three officers of the 477th Bombardment Group held since early spring for entering a white officers' club at Freeman Field, Seymour, Indiana. At a subsequent hearing, Lt. Roger Terry, the third defendant, was found guilty of "offering violence to a military police officer" and fined $150. Other charges of disobedience were dismissed.

The men were defended by Atty. Theodore M. Berry, president of the Cincinnati, Ohio, branch, who was assisted by Lts. Edward K.

Nichols, Jr., and William F. Coleman, Jr., military defense counsel.

ANTI-BIAS CLAUSE ASKED FOR IN EDUCATION BILL: In July the Association reiterated its support of federal aid to education, but asked for a stronger anti-discrimination provision in the bill during the hearings before the House Education Committee now considering H. R. 1296. As the bill now stands, it would authorize an appropriation of $200,000,000 to assist the states in financing elementary schools. Funds would be provided to keep all public schools open for a term of not less than 160 days, and substandard salaries would be raised. An additional $100,000,000 would be appropriated to more nearly equalize schools systems in the South with those in the North.

Though there is a provision in the bill for "just and equitable apportionment" of funds for racial minority groups in states maintaining separate schools, the NAACP points out that unless procedures are incorporated in the act to allow for hearings of formal complaints the non-discrimination clause can be violated. Therefore, the NAACP has recommended to the committee that section 8 of the bill, which provides for auditing of state-federal-aid accounts by the U. S. Office of Education, be amended to require that "such audits shall at all times be available for public inspection."

"If either before or after audit has been made," the recommendation continues, "any person shall complain to the Commissioner of Education that he has reason to believe that any portion of the funds appropriated under the act have been expended by any state contrary to the provisions of the act, the commissioner shall afford such a person a hearing on his complaint." Persons so complaining, under the proposed amendment, could appeal to a federal court from the commissioner's decision, or if the commissioner fails to hold a hearing in three months, to issue a decision on the complaint in six months. The federal court would be authorized to review the fact as well as the law.

SUBSCRIBE LIFE MEMBERSHIP: On July 2 the Gay Northeasterns, a prominent social club with chapters in New York City, Philadelphia, and Washington, took out a $500 life membership in the Association. The presentation was made to Walter White during a brief ceremony by Miss Mary White, national treasurer. Club members present included Mrs. Janice King, national president; Mrs. Jeanette Philyaw, New York City; and Miss Evelyn Gardner, Washington, D. C.

PHILADELPHIA BRANCH ENROLLS 14,636: Harold L. Pilgrim, director of the membership drive of the Philadelphia branch, report 14,636 members and $22,226.97 as of July 5.

DEATH SENTENCE REVERSED: The State Supreme Court of Florida in July reversed the death sentence imposed on Simon Peter Taylor, convicted in the killing of Deputy Sheriff Robert Max Suarez. The Circuit Court was ordered to enter a second degree murder conviction to replace that of first degree.

The case was defended by both the Tampa branch and the national office, which secured the services of Attorneys Scofield and Scofield of Inverness, Fla., to represent Taylor.

Taylor was convicted following an altercation with the Deputy Sheriff in September of last year. The Sheriff, in attempting to serve a legal writ upon Taylor as a result of a furniture bill owed by the defendant, began a brutal attack which resulted in Taylor's being shot through the arm by the deputy sheriff. In the continued tussle the sheriff was shot to death.

In setting aside the death sentence the court stated, "The essential element of premeditation was absent, hence there could be no finding of murder in the first degree. We are satisfied that the homicide was unlawful; that the evidence was sufficient to justify a conviction of murder in the second degree."

Branch News

CONNECTICUT: Speaker at the June meeting of the Waterbury branch was George W. Goodman, director of the North End Community House in Hartford.

Goal of the Stamford branch in its membership drive was five hundred members. The campaign opened May 25 and closed June 15.

ILLINOIS: Oscar C. Brown, president of the Chicago branch, was one of the speakers before the second session of the Chicago Conference on Home Front Unity.

IOWA: Main speaker at the June meeting of the Centerville branch was state president, Atty. M. F. Fields of Waterloo, Iowa.

KANSAS: Senior clerks in the Topeka post office presented Bolivar E. Watkins, president of the Topeka branch, an elaborate billfold in appreciation of his twenty-seven years in government service.

MARYLAND: In July the Baltimore branch announced the appointment of Addison V. Pinkney as its new executive secretary. Mr. Pinkney recently resigned as principal of the Turner elementary school in Turner Station, after serving twenty years, to accept the branch position. His new position pays a salary of $3,000 annually.

A native Baltimorean, Mr. Pinkney is a graduate of the Douglass high school, the Coppin Teachers College, and Morgan. As an active NAACP worker, he has been secretary of the executive committee, captain in the annual membership drive, and a promoter in the "register and vote campaign."

Despite the sweltering heat over 300 people attended the annual NAACP baby contest held at Sharp Street Memorial Methodist church, Sunday, July 1.

Over 200 babies participated in the contest and a total of $1,211.19 was reported as of July 1. This total does not include some fifty contestants who have not yet reported.

Mrs. Lillie M. Jackson, president of the branch, was chairman of the contest.

First prize, a silver loving cup, was awarded to Pamela Gaskins, who reported $111.00 in popularity votes. Other baby winners are as follows:

Robert Thornton, $34.25, diamond ring; Lelia Haggins, $30.28, silver drinking cup; Queen Esther Muldrow, $77.00, gold Bible locket; Gertrude Wainwright, William Watts, and Brenda Winkler, $45.00 each, diamond lockets; Patricia Clinton, 43.10, gold locket; Houston Brooks, Jr., $40.00, ring; Sylvia Fields, $31.50, diamond locket; Brenda Clarke, $30.25, ring; Callie H. Beverly, $30.00, ring; Roy Davis, $26.95, ring; Patricia Scott, $25.85 and Sylvia Stoakley, $20.00, gold Bibles each.

MASSACHUSETTS: Principal speaker at the June meeting of the Boston branch was Irving M. Ives, majority leader of the New York State Assembly and co-author of the Ives-Quinn law against racial and religious discrimination in employment. Mr. Ives was recently appointed dean of the new State School of Industrial and Labor Relations at Cornell university.

Rabbi Levi A. Olan of Temple Emanuel addressed the Worcester branch on "Doing Something about Bigotry."

The Springfield branch voted protest against the film "It Happened in Springfield," produced by Warner brothers, on the ground that it "side-stepped the real issues of disunity existing in America today" and that "it completely ignored anti-Semitism; which is rife, and jim crowism, which is several centuries old." The branch also adopted a resolution opposing compulsory military conscription.

The branch also reports progress in the breaking down of merchant opposition to the hiring of Negro sales girls.

MICHIGAN: In June, Detroit became the first NAACP branch to employ a youth director with the appointment of Miss Roberta McGuire as full-time youth director. She is a former teacher in the Detroit public schools and will assume her new duties August 15.

Daisy E. Lampkin, NAACP campaign director, enthusiastically endorsed the move "as a progressive move by the Detroit branch to help develop youth who need the work of the NAACP in order to become better citizens. Detroit has been needing a youth program which will meet the masses of youth."

The Detroit branch already reports 18,043 new memberships and $23,239.77 in its campaign drive for 26,000. According to Mrs. Lampkin, who is directing the drive, Harrison M. Williams is one of the ace workers in the campaign and he alone is responsible for more than 500 members.

The branch awarded the 1945 NAACP scholarship to Miss Loretta A. Rafferty, teacher in the Detroit public schools. Miss Rafferty will study in the Intercultural Workshop at Fisk university. She was chairman of the Intercultural Committee at the Capron school for two years and she is also a member of the Adult Education staff at the Northern high school. Miss Rafferty has served also on the education committee of the branch and the Bronson Guild, and she likewise belongs to the Detroit Round Table of Protestants, Catholics, and Jews, the Detroit Federation of Teachers, the American Association of University Women, and the League of Catholic Women. Prior to teaching in Niles and Royal Oaks schools, she attended Iowa State Teachers college, the University of Minnesota, and Creighton university in Omaha. Her graduate work was done at Wayne university in Detroit.

Each year the Detroit branch awards a scholarship for study in one of the intercultural workshops in order to foster the work of better qualified teachers in intercultural schools. Former recipients of the scholarship have been Mrs. Irene Graves, 1942; Mrs. Esther J. Lowe, 1943; and Miss Roberta McGuire, 1944. The scholarships are awarded to teachers regardless of race, creed, or color. Attorney Edward M. Turner is chairman of the branch education committee which selected Miss Rafferty for 1945.

DISTRICT SCHOOL OFFICIALS join the NAACP and present to Rufus G. Byars their check for membership. From left to right they are George E. C. Hayes, member of the school board and president of the D. C. branch; Rufus G. Byars, chairman special gifts committee; Dr. E. B. Henderson, chairman schools committee; Dr. Garnet C. Wilkinson, assistant superintendent of schools; and A. K. Savoy.

sored a musical and entertainment program in June in the auditorium of the Whittier school. Participants included Phi Delta Kappa sorority quintette, Union AME church choir, Summer school sextette, the branch's youth chorus, Holton Hackett, tenor; George Arthur, baritone; Harry Thompson, Miss Geraldine Rochester, Chester Holland, Sadye Dyitt, Esther Hicks, and Sandra Bowen.

Cast of the skit included Miss Kay Kaneda, Miss Dinah Freeman, Shuna Miah, and Mrs. Rebecca Butler.

The executive committee of the Paterson branch recently considered and acted upon important legislation. Two legal cases in which the branch is interested were reviewed and Misses Anita Fynn and Nell Doremus presented a plan to increase branch contact with other liberal groups.

NEW YORK: New Rochelle, cooperating with the local branch, sent the largest delegation of any city in New York state, outside of New York City, to the hearings on the Ives-Quinn bill. The delegation was arranged by the Mayor's Interracial Committee of New Rochelle.

The MIC, also in cooperation with the branch, sent a delegation of six people, headed by the mayor himself, Stanley W. Church, to interview legislators in Washington on their attitude toward FEPC. Statements from state Senator J. Raymond McGovern and city councilman Ralph Noxon, endorsing the purpose of the delegation, were taken along. Other members of the delegation were John Tate, president of the New Rochelle branch; Dr. Leon Scott, vice-president state conference; Bishop Thomas Gibson; Willis Rice, patent lawyer and democratic candidate for state senator in the last election; and Milton Heimlich, businessman and vice-chairman of the mayor's interracial committee (MIC).

The delegation interviewed Republican leader Joseph Martin, Representatives Taber and Adam Clayton Powell, Jr. They also visited Senator Wagner's office, but the senator was not in. The delegation was greatly helped by Mrs. Anna Hedgeman and Mrs. Fox of the National Committee for a Permanent FEPC. Mayor Church spoke for the delegation to the congressmen and devoted an entire day to delegation activities.

The Staten Island branch launched its membership drive with Capt. Jesse A. Dedmond, veteran of the present war, as speaker.

Ruth Hemming, an employee of the United Transformer Corp., was recently nominated by the Brooklyn branch as "Miss Victory Worker."

At the regular June meeting of the Great Neck branch plans were formulated for a series of lectures to be given by the organization this fall.

PENNSYLVANIA: In June LeRoy Carter, assistant field secretary, addressed the closing meeting of the Erie branch.

The Main Line branch exceeded its membership quota by more than $500.00.

In Media the branch is arranging special meetings to formulate plans for dealing with and handling those local problems which lead to public offense.

More than 14,000 members were reported at the final membership-campaign meeting of the Philadelphia branch.

Legal committee of the branch, headed by Atty. Eugene Clarke, is serving as counsel in behalf of James Freeman and Frederick Meyers, two six-year-old minors who were badly beaten in Germantown in June by Onfri Wolchek.

Theodore Spaulding, branch president, delivered the commencement address of the Vaux junior high school.

Replying to a letter directed by the branch to the commandment of the Philadelphia Navy Yard, Rear Admiral M. F. Draemel declared that there is no discrimination against any employee at the yard because of their race, creed, or color.

Johnstown branch presented a mural, "The Negro and the War Years," by Ann Sawyer, in an exhibit at the Art Institute in June. The exhibit marked the first public display of paintings by Miss Helen Tarr.

TENNESSEE: Victory meeting of the Memphis branch was held in June at the Metropolitan Baptist church.

TEXAS: State conference of the NAACP has announced that it will go into court if necessary to force the establishment of a university of equal rating with the University of Texas.

DELAWARE: The Wilmington branch ran a forum in June at which all candidates for mayor and several candidates for the council presented their platforms on the city issues. A questionnaire polling candidates and covering issues of civil rights, housing, education, recreation, etc., was also sent out.

An art exhibit featuring the paintings of the local Negro artist, Edward Loper, was held by the branch in June.

Current branch activities include the establishment of a citizens' fact-finding committee to obtain information on various problems affecting Negroes. The branch is also organizing a campaign for the passage of a city civil-rights ordinance.

NORTH CAROLINA: The Raleigh branch won another victory in July when it collected $582.93 as a cash settlement for Mrs. Arilia Bass, a Johnson county tenant farmer. For nearly two years the branch worked on this case under the careful planning of Charles G. Irving, chairman of the legal redress committee.

Mrs. Bass, a widow and the mother of five girls and two adopted boys, was a tenant farmer in Johnson county. Mrs. Bass had made a good tobacco crop and had picked four bales of cotton when the owner demanded that she leave his premises. Argument of the landowner was that Mrs. Bass' husband, who died in July of 1944, owed him more than the value of the crop.

A mass meeting of the Lehigh Valley branch was held June 17 at the St. James AME Zion church in Allentown. Purpose of the meeting was to close the branch membership drive, which had been in progress for a month. Report of the membership chairman, Mrs. Robert Jenkins, showed forty-six new members and eleven renewals.

Overseas

NEW GUINEA: Drive of the 855th Engineer Aviation Battalion to raise funds for the NAACP was brought to a close April 2 when the contribution committee reported $1,009.33 donated by a total of 364 men.

The drive was prompted by the realization that racial unity is a necessary attribute of any group, majority or minority, which hopes to succeed. Original idea for the drive was outgrowth of talks between small groups of enlisted men. Young men originally responsible for the idea were Sgt. Walker McLemore of Chicago and Cpl. Lawrence Thorpe of Kewanee, Ill.

Members of the contribution committee appointed to handle funds administrative details of the drive were T/Sgt. Coleman C. Moore, chairman; Sgt. John R. Williams, secretary; M/Sgt. William S. Ross, general treasurer; 1st Sgt. Wesley T. Arnold, treasurer H/S Co.; 1st Sgt. Alva Fulwood, treasurer Co. A; 1st Sgt. Edward B. Fletcher, treasurer Co. B; 1st Sgt. Jesse L. Chaney, treasurer Co. C; S/Sgt. Arthur Harvey, treasurer medical detachment; Sgt. Walker McLemore, campaign director; Cpl. Lawrence Thorpe, assistant campaign manager; 1st Sgt. Reuben A. Taylor, adviser; M/Sgt. Reginald T. Worrell, adviser.

BURMA: The NAACP has recently received $1,626 in new memberships from men in the 1883rd Engineering Battalion now in Burma. Excerpts from letters, speeches, poems, and pictures forwarded to the national office provide graphic evidence of the way these GIs conducted their own campaign after long, arduous hours spent in the completion of the engineering feats required in the building of the Ledo Road.

T/S Joe G. Smith describes the activities of the unit in an introductory letter as follows:

A. M. & N. GRADUATE

Mrs. Cassa H. Lawlah, 1945 graduate of Pine Bluff, Ark., A. M. & N. college.

"On May 8 (V-E Day then unknown to us in the forgotten country of Burma), Pvt. Ruthel Silas called a group of fellows to form a committee to enlighten the men of the great work of the NAACP and also to contribute to this worthy organization.

"After duty hours our program and advertising committee spent two weeks in reading of the fine work of the NAACP. We collected enough material to put on a show, titled 'Victory of Tomorrow.' It was an easy way and at the same time the best way of increasing the fellows' knowledge of our advancing organization.

"The program was a success. Our favorite songs and dramatic readings from outstanding Negro writers were presented.

"On behalf of the men of the 1883rd Engineering Aviation Battalion, 1359th Engineering Truck Company and the Executive Committee, I wish to express our sincere appreciation for the grand fight the NAACP is staging today."

CAMDEN, N. J.: "Are Negro Youth Sufficiently Well Behaved?" was the topic of a panel discussion by the youth council in the community house in June. Participants were Inez Johnson, Horace Sarmer, and George Lawrence. Eugene Clarke of Philadelphia was discussion leader. Dr. Ulysses Wiggins, branch president, also spoke on phases of the subject.

BORDENTOWN, N. J.: On June 28 the Bordentown council sponsored an amateur show at the Robert Stacy junior high school. Miss Cornelius Whiting, director, used both local and outside talent.

Book Reviews

HOMILIES

Brotherhood Through Religion. By Paul N. Elbin. Foreword by Dr. E. Stanley Jones. Philadelphia: Dorrance & Co., 1944. 153 pp. $1.75.

The author of this book is president of West Liberty State College in Wheeling, West Virginia, and active in educational, religious, and interracial work in his community. That Dr. Elbin is a frequent speaker at the Blue Triangle Branch of the Wheeling YWCA and before the local NAACP gives proof that he is interested in all human problems and relations and that he is a man of probity, sincerity, and wide learning; yet his book is in many ways disappointing.

Since the book is only incidentally concerned with Negroes, the author devotes only one chapter to "the problem," chapter nine on "Conscience and the Negro." The rest of the book is an exegesis on brotherhood and Christian living.

Throughout his book our author reminds us again and again that "prejudice is a kind of ignorance." But what does he himself do when he comes to treat of the Negro? To my disappointment he bases his arguments for better treatment of Negroes on the wrong premise—that the Negro came to this country a savage without a cultural background in his homeland, Africa. Then he cites the wonderful progress of the Negro in the United States which leads to the inference that his enslavement was not such a bad thing after all. For the whites did give this "savage" civilization, though perhaps grudgingly. Here is what the author writes on page 130 of his book: "It is proper that we remember that all Negroes three hundred years ago, and many only a century and a half ago, were African savages."

This is indeed strange doctrine after the investigations of Dr. Herskovits and other Africanists into the African cultural background of the American Negro. Dr. Elbin accepts uncritically the conventional American belief, which is used to justify so much of American proscription of Negroes, that nothing of importance in the world has been done by Negroes and that they should be grateful for the opportunities the whites have given them.

Likewise why does he think he is doing the modern Negro "no disservice" when he recites from "The Congo"? Vachel Lindsay knew nothing about Negroes and his "The Congo" tells us much more about the poet than it does about a Negro revival.

Because our author's suggestions for improving race relations never get outside the usual stereotyped and conventional molds, they have little value as a modus operandi. It is asking much of most Christian white Americans to treat as a brother a fellow citizen whom they regard at best as only "half a man."

JAMES W. IVY

NIHIL AD REM

Democracy Limited. By Eric E. L. Hercules. Cleveland, Ohio: Central Publishing House, 1945. 183pp. $2.50.

The only reason for adding another title to the ever-mounting conglomeration of books on "the Negro problem" is to bring either new insight or new facts. However, Mr. Eric Hercules does neither. He serves up instead platitudes, banalities, and fag-ends of learning. His publisher's release informs us that Mr. Hercules' tome is one of the first to discuss "the Negro-White problem from the view point of a foreign Negro." So naturally the reader expects either a freshness of approach or a certain novelty of interpretation, or perhaps both; but what he finds in Democracy Limited is superficial analysis served up in the manner of a committee report at a southern interracial gab-fest. The problem "is not simple, but complex," you know, and therefore the "most prudent course for the Negro to adopt would be to cultivate the goodwill of the best white people." Not once in his fourteen chapters does Mr. Hercules grasp the basic issues involved, and hardly any of his material is really to the point (nihil ad rem). Dr. Bernardo R. Suarez, a Cuban Negro, gave us a much better analysis twenty-three years ago in The Color Question in the Two Americas.

Our author's thinking is not only superficial, but often fuzzy and contradictory. In chapter four, for instance, Mr. Hercules argues that the poor showing of Negroes in business is to be explained by the Negro's lack of faith in Negro possibilities and the failure of more Negroes to take college courses in business. He seems totally oblivious of the Negro's lack of access to capital and credit and the competitive disadvantages of small and independent businesses in the American industrial hierarchy. In another chapter it is his contention that only the rabble-rousing politicians foster racial antagonisms, with the inference that the "high-class whites" love Negroes. Even an intelligent southern Negro peon could have told Mr. Hercules that his "high-class whites" are the main perpetrators and beneficiaries of a system designed to exploit both poor whites and Negroes. Upperclass whites naturally do not have to descend to the crude tactics of a Rankin or Bilbo because as long as they control the economic and political life of the South they have no immediate fear of Negro competition. They use finesse in fostering the antagonisms.

In one part of his book Mr. Hercules concludes that the Negro is a "normal human being," yet in another he argues that the Negro is so unique that he must make a "distinct contribution to American life as a Negro. Author's italics. This is arguing that he must develop as a "Negro" and not as a white man or an American. The argument of most Americans who attempt to justify continued segregation and exploitation. Interracial marriage also seems to irritate Mr. Hercules as much as it does Col. Ernest Sevier Cox or Dr. Plecker. He is even rash enough to claim "that most of the white women who marry Negroes in the North or have relations with them are from the South." This is sheer fancy. Actually we have no statistical knowledge of intermarriage outside Los Angeles, Boston, and New York and studies of these areas offer nothing in support of Mr. Hercules' conjecture.

Democracy Limited is nothing but "tripe," and tells us much more about Mr. Eric Hercules and his "intellectual" whims than it does about Negroes or their problems.

Negroes! Jews!

send them to Europe, and furthermore, that they should be returned from Europe and sent to the Pacific, where there are races of color. I make that assertion by virtue of statements made by a number of high-ranking American generals. Moreover, of a committee of nine Senators who went abroad, I think practically all will back up my statement.

Mr. President, I dislike going into these things, but by the pending measure we are actually asked to discriminate against the white war veteran, and give the Negro preference over him. Let us consider what happened in Normandy. Nothing has been said in this country about this, it has all been "hush, hush," and a great deal of propaganda has been put out about the great war record and the great fighting of the Negro troops.

It was necessary during the Normandy invasion to disarm a good many Negro soldiers, I was reliably informed by a high-ranking general in Paris. Negro soldiers would go to farm houses and holler "Boche! Boche!" as if they were looking for Germans, call the men of the families out into the yards, and hold guns on them while they went in and criminally assaulted the women members of the family. In the small Normandy peninsula, from invasion date to May of this year, there were 33 cases of criminal assault, 26 by Negroes, 7 by whites. . . .

Mr. President, I state that the conduct of the Negro soldier in Normandy, as well as all over Europe, was disgraceful, and that Negro soldiers have disgraced the flag of their country. . . . Mr. President, I state further that the conduct of the Negro soldier in Europe, the soldier to whom it is proposed to give preference, has caused the United States to lose prestige; he has caused hatred for our country and for our people. I was told in any number of cities that decent white girls could not go out on the streets because they would be accosted by groups of drunken Negro soldiers. I know from conversations with Army officers, with generals in the American Army, and with civilians, that in England, in France, in Belgium, that feeling exists in a very intense degree. He has disgraced the flag of his country. He will not fight. He will not work. . . .

The Senegalese "Rape"

There happened recently another thing about which I think the American people should know. It was not American Negroes who were involved. They were not constituents of any Member of this body. However, all races have certain racial characteristics, wherever their members may be found. I relate this incident to show that the Negro race is most assuredly an inferior race.

I was informed by generals and high ranking Government officials—and other members of the committee were so informed—that in the city of Stuttgart, when the French Army moved in, several thousand Christian German girls from good families were rounded up and placed in the subway, and for 4 or 5 days they were kept there and criminally assaulted by Senegalese soldiers from Africa. It was one of the most horrible occurrences of modern times. White soldiers would not have been guilty of such a thing. The white soldier has attempted to maintain American standards in the American Army. Another bad feature of the occurrence which I have just mentioned was that those French Negroes were in American uniforms, and the population of that section of Germany thought that American soldiers were involved. I bring that into this debate because, as I said, racial characteristics are common to the members of the same race, no matter where they reside. We are dealing with an inferior people, and yet we are discriminating against the white soldier, in favor of the inferior person, and under this measure we are giving the inferior person a preference in securing employment. . . .

Charges Refuted

There was an outburst of protest after the Eastland speech was featured in all daily papers. Although he was flooded with demands that he name the "high-ranking generals" and that he produce some evidence to support his charges, Senator Eastland remained silent.

However, the War department issued two statements, one in Washington through Under Secretary Robert P. Patterson, saying the department was proud of its troops including Negro troops; and one from SHAEF in Paris saying no armed Negroes were used as combat troops in Normandy—thus refuting Eastland's story of the rape of Normandy women.

The War department also made public a statement that no report of a mass rape lasting four or five days had been received from Stuttgart. It also stated that very few Senegalese troops had entered Stuttgart.

Later representatives of the French government issued a statement that Stuttgart did not have a subway and that no report of any such occurrence as cited by Eastland was known in Europe.

Other evidence refuting Eastland's charges was contained in the statements of General Dwight D. Eisenhower, General Mark W. Clark, and General George S. Patton, Jr., all of whom praised the Negro soldier's performance in Europe, in both combat and service units.

Finally, a compromise appropriation of $250,000 for FEPC was passed after the War Agencies Bill had been held up approximately two weeks. The significant aspect of the whole business, aside from the fact that the U. S. government could be held up for two weeks by disgusting race-hating speeches, is that through parliamentary tricks, some clever and some crude and obvious, neither the House nor the Senate was given an opportunity to vote on FEPC.

As shocking as the Senate speeches were, they become relatively insignificant in comparison to the revelation that it is possible for the representatives of the people in Congress to be denied an opportunity to express themselves on pending legislation. This bodes no good for democracy and suggests something of the stormy time ahead.—Wilkins.

Veterans Return

Negro overseas returnees are landing at Air Transport Command's Miami Army Air Field in increasing numbers as the Army's R-day plan to return 50,000 men a month to the states by air picks up momentum.

LEGAL DIRECTORY

The following directory of some of the many colored lawyers in this country is carried in response to numerous inquiries from readers desiring to contact attorneys outside their home towns. THE CRISIS maintains no legal bureau, and the N.A.A.C.P. handles only cases involving color discrimination, segregation or denial of citizenship rights.
